April 12 - 23

Inel Date is a contemporary artist with a studio based in rural Central West NSW. With a Master of Arts degree specialising in Art and Geography she is inspired by documenting and responding to place. A move to full time studio practice in recent years has allowed the expansion of her practice. Recently, amongst others, she has been selected as a finalist in the Calleen Art Prize (2019/2020/2022), Lethbridge 20000 small scale art award (2022) and Gosford Art Prize (2022). Always a geographer her practice is grounded in place. Initially working en plein air she then moves into the studio to create works that swing between still abstracted landscapes with pared back seasonal colours or otherwise richly layered exploratory surfaces.

“Paintings for TERRAIN have been inspired by clouds floating on the biscuit hills in and around Gosling Creek, stepping into the cool of the Mt Canobolas walks and storms gathering on the Eastern horizon. Chasing shadows and finding pockets of light. Place, land and sky is always my constant muse.” – Inel Date.
